National Day for Truth and Reconciliation

<https://www.orangeshirtday.org>

September 30th is the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation. As an important part of the reconciliation process, this day was created to honour the children who never returned home and the Survivors of residential schools. It is also a recognition of the ongoing impacts that residential schools have on their families and communities.

The university will be closed on this day as well as Federal offices and banks.

There are events commemorating this day. Everyone is encouraged to wear orange to honour the Survivors of residential schools and raise awareness. “Every Child Matters”.

Student Advising

We are into our fourth week of fall term and it is almost time to think about next term!

Level 4 students, please email the advisor with your academic plans for when you finish our program. Contact Lynn at uslc.advisor@usask.ca.
